Neiman Balanced Allocation Fund
Annual Report
May 2017

Dear Shareholders:

As of March 31, 2017, Neiman Balanced Allocation Fund (the "Fund") completed its 7th year since inception. The accompanying annual report covers the most recent fiscal year, from April 1, 2016 through March 31, 2017. As of the end of the current fiscal year, the Fund had total net assets of approximately $9.4 million.

The Fund had a total return for the fiscal year from April 1, 2016 through March 31, 2017, of 3.79% for the Class A shares (NBAFX), which takes into account the impact of sales charges; versus a total return of 10.16%, when excluding the impact of sales charges. During the same period, the Fund had a total return of 9.23% for the Class C shares (NBCFX). During the same time period, the Fund's benchmark S&P 500 Total Return Index ("S&P 500 Index") had a total return of 17.17%.

Management attributes the Fund's performance, in comparison to that of its benchmark, to a variety of factors. The nature of the Fund is often referred to as a moderate allocation fund. The Fund's portfolio covers several investment sectors, consisting of approximately 35% fixed income investments and approximately 65% equity investments. The inclusion of investments in fixed income sectors, by their very nature, often underperforms equities during most time frames. Benchmarks based solely on equity investments, such as the S&P 500 Index, will generally be more volatile and often outperform fixed income investments. In the attempt to reduce volatility, as a measure of risk, the Fund's performance will often lag that of an all equity benchmark.

Other factors that tend to reduce performance, compared to that of the benchmark, are fees and expenses incurred by the Fund to maintain its operations. The benchmark index measures performance without reductions for the impact of fees and expenses, while the Fund's performance is reduced by the impact of fees and expenses. In addition, the Fund itself is composed of a basket of other mutual funds. In order to cover a broad allocation of investment styles, the portfolio managers use a research and screening processes to seek out as many of the best performing funds as possible in each asset category. This takes into account an attempt to achieve low volatility, while seeking strong performance. During any given time period, the managers of these various underlying funds may not always deliver returns equal to or exceeding the benchmark. Each of the selected mutual funds may themselves outperform or underperform their peers within their respective categories. Even with careful monitoring by management, the overall performance of the Fund will be impacted by these other underlying funds, depending on whether they perform better or worse than the benchmark.

A primary purpose of the Fund is to focus on investors of moderate risk tolerance, those seeking to reduce risk as compared to the general stock market. As of March 31, 2017, as measured by Class A shares excluding the impact of sales charges, the Fund had a three-year standard deviation of 6.51%, while the S&P 500 Index exhibited a three-year standard deviation of 10.41% for the same time period. The lower standard deviation of the Fund is an indication that the Fund exhibited less volatility, as a measure of risk, than did the benchmark.

Thank you for your investment in the Neiman Balanced Allocation Fund. We will always endeavor to focus on safety of our shareholders' investments as our highest priority, while attempting to deliver a steady return on investment.

The Annual Fund Operating Expense Ratio reported above will not correlate to the expense ratio in the Fund's financial highlights because (a) the financial highlights include only the direct operating expenses incurred by the Fund, not the indirect costs of investing in acquired funds, and (b) the gross expense ratio may fluctuate due to changes in net assets and actual expenses incurred during the reported period.

^(A) 1 Year, 3 Year, 5 Year and Since Inception returns include change in share prices and in each case includes reinvestment of any dividends and capital gain distributions. Investment performance reflects fee waivers in effect. In the absence of such waivers, total returns would be reduced. The Neiman Balanced Allocation Fund commenced operations on July 6, 2010. Disclosure of Expenses (Unaudited)

As a shareholder of the Fund, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including sales charges (loads) on purchase payments; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees; distribution and/or service (12b-1) fees; and other Fund expenses. You will be assessed fees for outgoing wire transfers returned checks, and stop payment orders at prevailing rates charged by Mutual Shareholder Services, LLC, the Fund's transfer agent, and IRA accounts will be charged an $8.00 annual maintenance fee. Additionally, your account will be indirectly subject to the expenses of the underlying funds. This Example is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The Example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held for the period, October 1, 2016 through March 31, 2017.

The first line of the table below provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use the information in this line, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the first line under the heading entitled "Expenses Paid During Period" to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

The second line of the table below provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund's actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund's actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in this Fund and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as sales charges (loads), IRA maintenance fees described above and expenses of underlying funds. Therefore, the second line of the table is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative cost of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your cost could have been higher.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
NEIMAN BALANCED ALLOCATION FUND

March 31, 2017

1.) ORGANIZATION

Neiman Balanced Allocation Fund (the "Fund") is a diversified series of the Neiman Funds (the "Trust"), an open-end management investment company. The Trust was organized in Ohio as a business trust on January 3, 2003 and may offer shares of beneficial interest in a number of separate series, each series representing a distinct fund with its own investment objectives and policies. As of March 31, 2017, there are four series authorized by the Trust. Neiman Funds Management LLC is the adviser to the Fund (the "Adviser"). The Fund commenced operations on July 6, 2010 and the Fund commenced investing in line with its objectives on July 16, 2010. The Fund currently offers Class A and Class C shares. The classes differ principally in their respective distribution expenses (see Note 5) and arrangements as well as their respective sales charge structure. All classes of shares have identical rights to earnings, assets and voting privileges, except for class specific expenses and exclusive rights to vote on matters affecting only individual classes. Class A shares are subject to an initial maximum sales charge of 5.75% imposed at the time of purchase. The sales charge declines as the amount purchased increases, in accordance with the Fund's prospectus. Class C shares of the Fund are offered at net asset value without an initial sales charge. The Fund's investment objective is to seek total return. The Fund pursues its investment objective using a fund-of-funds strategy by investing in underlying mutual funds. Significant accounting policies of the Fund are presented below:

2.) SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

SECURITY VALUATION

The Fund is an investment company and accordingly follows the investment company accounting and reporting guidance of the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") Accounting Standards Codification Topic 946 Financial Services - Investment Companies. All investments in securities are recorded at their estimated fair value, as described in Note 3.

FEDERAL INCOME TAXES

The Fund's policy is to continue to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute all of its taxable income to shareholders. Therefore, no federal income tax provision is required. It is the Fund's policy to distribute annually, prior to the end of the calendar year, dividends sufficient to satisfy excise tax requirements of the Internal Revenue Code. This Internal Revenue Code requirement may cause an excess of distributions over the book year-end accumulated income. In addition, it is the Fund's policy to distribute annually, after the end of the fiscal year, any remaining net investment income and net realized capital gains.

The Fund recognizes the tax benefits of certain tax positions only where the position is "more likely than not" to be sustained assuming examination by tax authorities. Management has analyzed the Fund's tax positions, and has concluded that no liability for unrecognized tax benefits should be recorded related to uncertain tax positions taken on returns filed for its open tax years. The Fund identifies its major tax jurisdictions as U.S. Federal and State tax authorities; however the Fund is not aware of any tax positions for which it is reasonably possible that the total amounts of unrecognized tax benefits will change materially in the next twelve months. The Fund recognizes interest and penalties, if any, related to unrecognized tax benefits as income tax expense in the Statement of Operations. During the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017, the Fund did not incur any interest or penalties.

DISTRIBUTIONS TO SHAREHOLDERS

Distributions to shareholders, which are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, are recorded on the ex-dividend date. The treatment for financial reporting purposes of distributions made to shareholders during the year from net investment income or net realized capital gains may differ from their ultimate treatment for federal income tax purposes. These differences are caused primarily by differences in the timing of the recognition of certain components of income, expense, or realized capital gain for federal income tax purposes. Where such differences are permanent in nature, they are reclassified in the components of the net assets based on their ultimate characterization for federal income tax purposes. Any such reclassifications will have no effect on net assets, results of operations, or net asset values per share of the Fund.

USE OF ESTIMATES

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States ("GAAP") requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities.

ties at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in net assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

OTHER

The Fund records security transactions based on trade date for financial reporting purposes. Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date, and interest income is recognized on an accrual basis. The Fund uses the specific identification method in computing gain or loss on the sale of investment securities. Capital gain distributions from underlying investments are recorded on the ex-date. Long-term capital gain distributions are recorded as capital gain distributions from investment companies, and short-term capital gain distributions are recorded as dividend income. Discounts and premiums on securities purchased are amortized over the lives of the respective securities. Withholding taxes on foreign dividends have been provided for in accordance with the Fund's understanding of the applicable country's tax rules and rates.

EXPENSES

Expenses incurred by the Trust that do not relate to a specific fund of the Trust are allocated pro-rata to the funds in the Trust based on the total number of funds in the Trust at the time the expense was incurred or by another appropriate method. Class specific expenses are borne by each specific class. Income, non-class specific expenses, and realized and unrealized gains/losses are allocated to the respective classes based on the basis of relative net assets.

3.) SECURITIES VALUATIONS

The Fund utilizes various methods to measure the fair value of most of its investments on a recurring basis. GAAP establishes a hierarchy that prioritizes inputs to valuation methods. The three levels of inputs are:

Level 1 - Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the Fund has the ability to access.

Level 2 - Inputs other than quoted prices included in level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. These inputs may include quoted prices for the identical instrument on an inactive market, prices for similar instruments, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, yield curves, default rates and similar data.

Level 3 - Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability, to the extent relevant observable inputs are not available, representing the Fund's own assumptions about the assumptions a market participant would use in valuing the asset or liability, and would be based on the best information available.

The availability of observable inputs can vary from security to security and is affected by a wide variety of factors, including, for example, the type of security, whether the security is new and not yet established in the marketplace, the liquidity of markets, and other characteristics particular to the security. To the extent that valuation is based on models or inputs that are less observable or unobservable in the market, the determination of fair value requires more judgment. Accordingly, the degree of judgment exercised in determining fair value is greatest for instruments categorized in level 3.

The inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, for disclosure purposes, the level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement falls in its entirety, is determined based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety.

FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

A description of the valuation techniques applied to the Fund's major categories of assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis follows.

Equity securities. Equity securities generally are valued by using market quotations, but may be valued on the basis of prices furnished by a pricing service when the Adviser believes such prices accurately reflect the fair market value of such securities. Securities that are traded on any stock exchange or on the NASDAQ over-the-counter market are generally valued by the pricing service at the last quoted sale price. Lacking a last sale price, an equity security is generally valued by the pricing service at its last bid price. Generally, if the security is traded in an active market and is valued at the last sale price, the security is categorized as a level 1 security. When market quotations are not readily available, when the Adviser determines that the market quotation or the price provided by the pricing service does not accurately reflect the current market value, or when restricted securities are being valued, such securities are valued as determined in good faith by the Adviser, subject to review of the Board of Trustees (the "Trustees" or the "Board") and are categorized in level 2 or level 3, when appropriate.

Mutual funds. Mutual funds are valued at the net asset value as reported by the underlying fund and are classified in level 1 of the fair value hierarchy. The underlying mutual funds value securities in their portfolios for which market quotations are readily available at their market values (generally the last reported sale price) and all other securities and assets at their fair value by the methods established by the boards of the underlying funds.

Money market funds. Shares of money market funds are valued at net asset value and are classified in level 1 of the fair value hierarchy.

In accordance with the Trust's good faith pricing guidelines, the Adviser is required to consider all appropriate factors relevant to the value of securities for which it has determined other pricing sources are not available or reliable as described above. There is no single standard for determining fair value, since fair value depends upon the circumstances of each individual case. As a general principle, the current fair value of an issue of securities being valued by the Adviser would appear to be the amount which the owner might reasonably expect to receive for them upon their current sale. Methods which are in accordance with this principle may, for example, be based on (i) a multiple of earnings; (ii) a discount from market of a similar freely traded security (including a derivative security or a basket of securities traded on other markets, exchanges or among dealers); or (iii) yield to maturity with respect to debt issues, or a combination of these and other methods.

The following table summarizes the inputs used to value the Fund's assets measured at fair value as of March 31, 2017:

| Valuation Inputs of Assets | Level 1 | Level 2 | Level 3 | Total |
|-----------------------------------|----------------|----------------|----------------|---------------|

Under the terms of the Investment Advisory Agreement, the Adviser manages the investment portfolio of the Fund, subject to policies adopted by the Trust's Trustees. The Adviser, at its own expense and without reimbursement from the Trust, furnishes office space and all necessary office facilities, equipment and executive personnel necessary for managing the assets of the Fund. The Plan permits the Fund to pay the Distributor and the Adviser 12b-1 fees as compensation for their services and expenses in connection with the distribution of Fund shares. The Distributor must approve all payments made under the Plan and may pay any or all amounts received under the Plan to other persons, including the Adviser, for any distribution, promotional or shareholder support services.
